FIRST CROP OF 1925-26—FIRST REPORT.

(On an average of the five years ending 1924-25, the area under paddy in the Madras Presidency has represented 172 per cent of the total area under paddy in India.)

The area sown with paddy up to the end of September 1926 is estimated at 4,631,556 acres as compared with 7,841,000 acres estimated in the corresponding date of last year, or a decrease of about 57 per cent.

The decrease in area occurs mainly in Ganjam, Vizagapatnam, West Godavari, Kistna, and South

Arund, and is probably due to the late season. There is an increase in area in Katka, Guntur, Chittoor, Tenali, and the South campa Taluk.

1. First crop paddy has been harvested in the West coast. The yield is slightly above normal owing to the well distributed rainfall and would have been better still in Malabar but for the attack of stem-borer.

The harvest of first crop paddy has just commenced in Tanjore, Madurai, and Tirunelveli. The yield is expected to be normal. The condition of the crop is fairly satisfactory in the other districts.

2. Figures by districts are given below:—

THE SUGARCANE CROP OF 1918, SECOND REPORT.

[On an average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under sugarcane in the Madras Presidency has represented 4.2 per cent of the total area under sugarcane in India.]

The area planted with sugarcane in the Madras Presidency up to the end of September 1918 is estimated at 109,530 acres as compared with 108,808 acres on the corresponding date of last year or an increase of 722 acres. The variations are slight and do not call for any remarks.

2. The condition of the crop is now fairly good. Normal yield is expected if the season is normal in the remaining portion of the growing period. On this basis, the yield is estimated at 215,203 tons of sugarcane against 200,300 tons on the corresponding date of last year.

3. Figures by districts are given below.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
GINSENG CROP OF 1926-27—SECOND REPORT.

(On an average of the five years ending 1924-25, the area under ginseng in the Madras Presidency has represented 12.5 per cent of the total area under ginseng in India.)

The area sown with ginseng up to the end of September 1926 is estimated at 262,500 acres as compared with 321,500 acres estimated at the corresponding date of last year, or a decrease of 59 per cent.

2. The decrease in area occurs in most of the important districts and is due mainly to the scanty rainfall during the season. The greatest reduction in area is found in East Godavari, West Godavari, Chingleput, North Arcot, North Arcot and Salem where the area fell from 320,500 acres last year to 94,500 acres. In Bellary and Anaparthi, the area increased from 94,500 acres last year to 105,600 acres owing to good rains in June.

3. The early crop in the Coimbatore has been harvested. The yields were normal except in East Godavari and West Godavari where the crop was poor both in quality and quantity owing to the unfavourable season.

The crop in the Deccan and Carnatic districts, North Arcot and Salem was adversely affected by the season. The condition of the crop is fairly satisfactory in the other districts.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

[On an average of the five years ending 1924-25, the area under groundnut in the Madras Presidency has represented 8.71 per cent of the total area under groundnut in India.]

The area sown with groundnut up to the end of September 1925 is estimated at 1,876,306 acres as compared with 2,019,380 acres on the corresponding date of last year or a decrease of 14.3 per cent.

2. The area in South Arcot fell from 552,293 acres to 261,295 acres on the whole in June, July and August when the main crop season was nearly at defect. There was an increase in area in Bellary, Anantapur and Chittoor owing to good sowing season and to the fact that groundnut partly employed cotton. The area in Bellary has been steadily increasing from 1,258 acres in 1918-19 to 71,369 acres in the current year. The variations in the other districts are slight and do not call for any remarks.

3. The harvesting of the summer crop and early crop is over.

The main crop suffered from the attacks of Acalia and hairy caterpillar in parts of Chittoor, South Arcot, Chittoor, and North Arcot. In Salem and Coimbatore, the crop suffered from drought and the attack of hairy caterpillar is poor. The condition of the crop is generally good in other districts.

2. April to August 1905.—Sowings—Dry.—The area sown from April to August was nearly equal to the average but was less than last year's figures by 2 per cent. The decrease compared with the last year was mainly in Kurnool, South Arcot, Salem and Coimbatore.

Wet.—The total area sown from April to August exceeded the average by 2 per cent but was less than last year's figures by 4 per cent. The increase over the average was mainly in West Godavari and Eluru while the decrease compared with last year was mainly in Gunjur, the Canara and North Arcot.
